

Organizations That Support Public Right-to-Know of Pesticide Use

Alaska Chronic Fatigue and Multiple Chemical Sensitivity Support Group
Alaska Injured Workers Alliance
Alaska Public Interest Research Group
American Lung Association of Alaska
Brain Injury Association of Alaska
Mental Health Association of Alaska
Native American Fish and Wildlife Society

The following organizations are some of those concerned that the State of Alaska's pesticide regulations allow contamination of our environment, and may threaten the health of people, fish or wildlife.

Many of these organizations strongly opposed the State's regulatory endorsement of aerial spraying for forestry (especially in salmon habitat areas), and called for improved public notification of pesticide use.

- Alaska Public Health Association
- United State Fish & Wildlife Service
- National Marine Fisheries Service
- Alaska Organic Growers Association
- Alaska Community Action on Toxics
- Alaska Department of Fish and Game
- Port Alexander Fish and Game Advisory Committee
- Alaska IMPACT

Commercial Fishing

- Seafood Producers Cooperative
- Alaska Trollers Association
- Alaska Longline Fisherman's Association
- Northern Keta Caviar

Local Governments

- City of Hydaburg
- City of Port Alexander
- City of Tenakee Springs
- Northern Keta Caviar

Alaskan Native Councils

- Central Council of Tlingit and Haida Indian Tribes of Southeast Alaska
- Organized Village of Saxman
- Hoonah Indian Association
- Klawock Cooperative Association
- Organized Village of Kasaan
- Ketchikan Indian Corporation
- Craig Community Association
- Organized Village of Kake
- Hydaburg Cooperative Association

Public Health Officials and Other Experts

- Cal Richert, Forester at Central Council Tlingit & Haida Indian Tribes of Southeast Alaska
- Dr. Mike Tobin
- Dr. Nancy Ouimet
- Dr. Ronald E. Dick
- Lucia Roncalli, CDM
- Dr. Birgit Lenger
- Dr. Adam Grove
- Barbara Harper, Board-certified Toxicologist

Conservation Groups

- Alaska Marine Conservation Council
- Southeast Alaska Conservation Council
- Cook Inlet Keeper
- Anchorage Waterways Council
- Campaign to Safeguard America's Waters
- Juneau Audubon Society
- Alaska Conservation Alliance
- Anchorage Audubon Society
- Kachemak Bay Conservation Society
- Center for Biological Diversity Alaska Program
- Leavenworth Audubon Society Adopt-a-Forest Program
- Lynn Canal Conservation
- Alaska Center for the Environment
- Lower Chatham Conservation Society
- Tongass Conservation Society
- Juneau Group Sierra Club
- Sierra Club, Alaska Chapter
- Copper Country Alliance